COOKIE DAY – MARCH 14, 2019

All library books, except textbooks needed for coursework and exams, are due back by 9:00 a.m. June 14. Students who have returned their library books, or paid for any that have been lost or destroyed, will receive a cookie, home-made by our kitchen staff and students.

Students are reminded that if they believe the book has been returned to talk to Mrs. Kilpatrick, who will do a double-check for it in the library.

Where to Look?

FIRST THINGS FIRST,

Try to remember what the book looked like:

How big was it? What color? Was it thick or thin? What do you remember about the cover? Is it hardcover or paperback?

If you are not sure, ask the librarian.

Also, keep in mind that all library books have spine and barcode labels so that they stand out!

Then:

- ☐ Ask your parents if they've seen it
- ☐ Ask your brother or sister if they've seen it
- ☐ Ask other relatives if they've seen it
- ☐ Ask your boyfriend/ girlfriend if they've seen it
- ☐ Ask your teachers if they've seen it

Go Hunting!

Here is a list of actual places where kids have found their missing books. Even if you do not find yours in of these suggested locations, it might help you think of other areas to search:
